RELICS: Sculpture by Brian Scott
February 23 - June 3, 2007

Opening reception Thursday, March 22, 5:30 - 7:30 p.m.
 This Montana artist explores the fusion of glass, metal, and heat, creating sculptures that range from the ethereal to the challenging. A frequent participant in the Museum's annual Art Auction, and featured in group exhibitions in years past, this will be Scott's first solo exhibition at the Yellowstone Art Museum.

The Art of Warner Bros. Cartoons

March 16 - June 10, 2007
Opening reception Thursday, March 22, 5:30 - 7:30 p.m.
The Art of Warner Bros. Cartoons exhibition was organized by the Museum of Modern Art in New York. Enjoy 165 drawings, paintings, animation "cels," and related objects that take you from the beginning of this classic art form in the 1930s to its pinnacle in 1960. Learn about the history of Warner Bros. cartoons, how classic "cel" animation was made, the star characters from the animated shorts, and the elaborate creative process that characterizes each film. Sure to be a blockbuster!
Sponsors include First Interstate Bank, First American Title and Escrow, Holiday Stationstores, Dr. Don and Carol Roberts, Billings Gazette, Stillwater Mining, Malcolm and Karen Long, Northwestern Energy, and Dr. Terry and Mary K. Housinger

The HOME House Project:
The Future of Affordable Housing

March 23 - June 10, 2007
Opening reception Thursday, March 22, 5:30 - 7:30 p.m.
 For The HOME House Project, artists and architects were challenged to submit housing plans that merged outstanding design with the responsible use of sustainable materials and technologies. The exhibition consists of the designs submitted by the 25 Merit Award Winners.
Sponsors include David Orser and Ossie Abrams, Dr. Donald and Carol Roberts, Billings Architectural Association, O2 Architects, and Pella Windows.
